

Tara Sherry-Torres, MSW

Tara Sherry-Torres, MSW is a community organizer, nonprofit consultant, hostess, and yogi. For over 15 years Tara has worked in community based organizations, economic development, and hospitality in New York City and Pittsburgh, PA. Leveraging these diverse experiences, in 2014, Tara founded, Cafe Con Leche, an award winning event production company that cultivated joyful spaces using art, and entertainment. In 2017 Tara started her own consulting firm, TST Productions with a vision of approaching community engagement using a holistic, human-centered framework, resulting in authentic connections and collective plan of action.

Tara received her bachelor's degree in Political Science and Puerto Rican & Latino studies from Brooklyn College and a Master of Social Work from The University of Pittsburgh. Currently Tara sits on the board of the Pittsburgh Land Bank. As a regular contributor to Pittsburgh's only bilingual newspaper, La Jornada Latina Pittsburgh, Tara writes about quality of life issues that effect Latinos living in Pittsburgh. Tara was a featured panelist on NPR's "Going There: Pittsburgh with Michele Martin". She was named one of Pittsburgh Magazine's 40 Under 40, Post Gazette's People to Meet, and Creator of the Year by Pittsburgh's Techology Council.
